UPDATING YOUR DEVICE

Your phone can download and install Software updates.

Menu > Settings > About phone > Software update manager

The software update service checks an online server to see if any updates are available for your phone. If an update is available you can choose whether to download and install the update.

Downloading via Wi-Fi is highly recommended. Data usage charges will apply if downloading via mobile networks such as the Telstra Next G® network. International roaming data charges will apply for customers downloading the upgrade on a mobile network whilst travelling outside of Australia.

A firmware update will require a restart of your device.

SAFETY
GENERAL STATEMENT ON RF ENERGY

The phone is a low-power radio transmitter and receiver. When switched on it intermittently transmits radio frequency (RF) energy (radio waves). The transmit power level is optimised for best performance and automatically reduces when there is good quality reception. Maximum power is only used at the edge of network coverage so under most circumstances the power output is very low. Under poor network conditions the phone transmits at a higher power, may get hot and have a shorter battery life.

SPECIFIC ABSORPTION RATE (SAR)
The phone is designed not to exceed the limits for exposure to radio waves recommended by the ICNIRP. The limits include safety margins designed to assure the protection of all persons, regardless of age and health.
The guidelines measure the Specific Absorption Rate, or SAR. The SAR limit for mobile devices is 2W/Kg and the highest SAR value for this device is 1.16 W/Kg.
